Transcription of sections of the Churchwardens' Accounts of Lighthorne,

1739 - 1925, by Colin Such (2026)

This is a transcription of parts of the book entitled "Churchwardens Book 1739", in the possession of the Warwick County Record Office (DR18/7).

The book contains annual accounts written by the churchwardens, usually in similar format. However in 1773 2 facing pages are used to record details and accounts of the demolition and reconstruction of the church. Photocopies of the faculties relevant to this work are contained in the archives of the Lighthorne History Society (LH127, LH128 and LH129) and the originals are in the Hive, the archive of the Worcester Record Office (BA2939).
